Excavation Started for New Swimming Pool in Park Here

Ground was broken for the new swimming pool here Saturday afternoon and work on the excavation started by the Blue Rock Quarries, Inc.

A short ceremony, with members of the Park Board and other leaders in the drive to build the pool taking part, marked the occasion.

Rev. Francis T. McCarty, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave a prayer then Carroll Halliday, president of the Park Board dug the first spadeful of dirt for the pool. A special shovel, which sparkled like silver, was used for the occasion.

A few seconds later a power shovel scooped up its first load of dirt and deposited it in a waiting truck and the pool construction was actually underway.

Meanwhile, plans were being completed for an all-out drive for donations to complete a fund, which now totals more than $50,000. The drive will officially get underway Thursday and lasts through September.

Victor Smith heads the drive and is assisted by a score of volunteer workers, which the committee hopes will swell to several hundred by the time the campaign starts.

Workers will shoot for a goal of $70,000 to build the new swimming pool, slated for completion in time for use during the summer season next year.

Several pieces of heavy equipment, including trucks and a power shovel, were on hand Saturday to help make the plans of the drive committee a reality.

The excavation has been donated by Harold Blehn, operator of the Blue Rock Quarries, Inc. George Sever of the Sever-Williams Company, contractors for the pool construction, estimated that this donation will save the committee about $1,200.

The pool is being built in Washington Park, known to most residents of the community as Perry's Park.

Sever said after the excavation had been completed his men would start work on pouring the concrete footing (or foundation) for the pool. After this, he said the pool walls would be poured.

The pool is to be 45 by 105 feet while a wading pool to be constructed nearby is to be 20 by 30 feet.

Steel Industry Showdown Near

10-Day Strike Truce Under Consideration

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12—(AP)—Policy makers of the CIO United Steelworkers gather today to decide if the presidential fact finders' report offers a satisfactory solution to settle the steel wage dispute.

Similar decisions from more than 60 steel companies also are expected, just as soon as officers and boards of directors finish studying the fact finding board's recommendations. The board suggested a 10-cent hourly package covering pensions and insurance, but not wages.

Also before the union's 36-man executive board and 170-man wage policy committee today is President Truman's request that a strike deadline — now set to expire at midnight tomorrow (Eastern Standard Time) — be extended for at least 11 days, until September 25.

The union's executive board, composed of international officers and 33 district directors (meeting at 9 A. M., Eastern Standard Time), must have its decisions ratified by the wage policy committee (meeting at 1 P. M., Eastern Standard Time). The committee is made up of the executive board, plus representatives of local unions.

If President Philip Murray comes from the union meeting and flashes the green light to postpone the strike that will allow the union and the companies more time to go over the board's suggestions.

The "Big Five" of the steel industry have told the president they would continue operations at least until September 25 as he requested. But their decision won't mean a thing unless the steelworkers report for work. CIO steelworkers in four states, where strike ballots are required before a walkout, have voted 15 to one for a strike if necessary, The union says.

The five major steel companies who comprise the Big Five are U. S. Steel Corporation, Bethlehem Steel Company, Republic Steel Corporation, Inland Steel Company, and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

Inland Steel, however, has begun gradual slow-down operations. The company said it would follow through with its program (Please turn to Page Two)

Bride Is Back---Big amist Held

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 12—(AP)—A young bride who disappeared two weeks ago is home again — with her parents. Her husband is held on a bigamy charge after admitting to four previous marriages.

Mrs. Pauline Patton, 20, walked into police headquarters here yesterday and announced she had been working in Cleveland. She vanished Aug. 29, just 15 days after marrying William H. Patton, 33.

She told police she left Patton after he told her he would seek an annulment to their marriage. She said she returned after reading of Patton's arrest in a newspaper. Police told her, apparently for the first time, that Patton had married at least five times since 1938.

At first Mrs. Patton said she would return to Cleveland, according to police, then she was persuaded to telephone her parents in Niagara Falls, they said, and later in the evening she left police headquarters with her father, Ralph E. Credicott.

Patton, who calls himself an unemployed mechanical engineer, came here Aug. 11 from Port Clinton, O., according to police. Detective Chief William T. Fitzgibbons listed his four other wives as:

Pauline E. Short of Cumberland, Md.; Cecilia Jakubowski of Philadelphia; Genevieve Merzwa of Kansas City and Evelyn Betty Greenburg, whom Patton married April 22 under the name of William M. Murittia-Patton.

Mrs. Jakubowski-Patton and Mrs. Greenburg-Murittia-Patton are seeking annulments and the other two have received divorces, Fitzgibbons said.

The recent Mrs. Patton told police yesterday she traveled to Cleveland by bus and found work "right away" as a soda clerk.

Stalin's Nose Tweaked Again

Industrialization On In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 12—(AP)—Premier Marshal Tito flung new defiance into the teeth of the Russian bear today.

Yugoslavia, he declared, "stepped by tremendous experiences" in World War II, is ready to overcome any present troubles as it did its past ones.

The premier, prime target of Moscow and the Cominform as a heretic from Marxism, addressed a group of engineers and workers from a motor factory at Rakovica, near here. They came to Belgrade to show him three new types of tractors they developed in the country's industrialization campaign—the very campaign which so irks Moscow.

Tito has refused to bow to Moscow's orders to concentrate on an Agrarian economy, just as he refused to heed Moscow's orders to step up collectivization of farms. His thus far successful rebellion against Moscow domination in these and other aspects now shows signs of being copied in other Communist countries.

Eight Are Jailed Saturday's revelation that Hungary had jailed eight top party men for trying to overthrow the Kremlin — controlled government was taken here as the latest evidence that important persons in the satellite countries would like to follow Yugoslavia's example.

Along with other incidents, it is considered to show wide-spread resentment in eastern Europe over Russia's economic exploitation of the small "people's democracies." Observers recalled the trial and execution of Albania's Koci Xoxe, the removal of Greece's rebel leader Gen. Markos Vafiades, Bulgaria's ousting of Traicho Kostov from his party post and the development of an independent anti-Moscow Communist party in Germany.

Tito's promise in August—"We will help the Bulgarians to remove those individuals who have raised obstacles to creation and preservation of brotherly relations"—now is believed to have a deeper meaning.

Hope for East Europe Diplomatic observers in Belgrade see in it a promise, not only to the Bulgarians, but to the rest of eastern Europe, to help all those who oppose subservience to Moscow.

It appeared here that, with so many high-ranking Communists denounced in the Cominform states, there must be a very widespread independence movement in those countries.

"Tito-type" Communism is evidently spreading despite ruthless Russian suppression.

Czechoslovakia's official Communist newspaper yesterday accused Marshal Tito of plotting to combine eastern Europe into an anti-Russian alliance.

It said the alleged anti-government plot uncovered Saturday in Hungary was only part of the scheme.

The newspaper, Rude Pravo, charged that "American imperialists supported Tito in his plan."

DOWNFALL PREDICTED NEW YORK, Sept. 12—(AP)—

Viadimir Outrata, Czechoslovakian ambassador to the United States, predicted today that Marshal Tito's regime in Yugoslavia "will not last."

The Czech diplomat arrived aboard the liner Queen Mary after returning to his country to make what he called a routine report.

The rift between Tito and the Kremlin is, "deepening very quickly," Outrata said, adding: "There are good reasons that Tito's defiance will not last very long. Tito will not change his policy but the regime will not last."

When asked by newsmen whether he referred to the possibility of civil war in Yugoslavia, (Please turn to Page Two)

Kroger Store Set for Opening

New Food Market On Court Street

The multitude of last-minute plans today were being cleared up for Wednesday's opening of the Kroger Company's new self-service food department store at 214 West Court Street here.

In making the announcement of the opening, Byron P. Redmon, the Kroger branch manager of Columbus, said months of research and planning had gone into this "new model store."

"We have designed this store to offer a one-stop shopping service, convenient to pedestrians, bus and automobile traffic," Redmon further explained.

Shopping conveniences planned for the new store include a 38-foot meat display counter, latest type refrigerated produce rack, self-service dairy, frozen food, and bakery sections, wide fluorescent lighted aisles and eye level shelves. Three check-out stands at the exit will facilitate fast checking for customers, and self-service handling of coffee grinding, cigarette and candy has been arranged to further speed up check-out.

The front of the building will be decorated with a new style blue Kroger signature sign. The building is 50 by 150 feet and will feature ample parking space adjacent to the store.

Managing the new store will be Scott Harner, who has been a Kroger employee for 23 years. The head meat cutter will be Walter Henk, who has been with the firm for 3 years. Their total service (Please turn to Page Two)

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

The tale of honesty in this column Friday brought another today.

It's worth telling because many people remember and recount just the thefts and stories of dishonesty in everyday life.

We'll call him Johnny, because his mother asked the story be anonymous.

Thirteen-year-old Johnny was enjoying himself at the state fairgrounds. So much, in fact, that he didn't know he had lost his pocketbook.

As the days passed, he resigned himself to the loss of the new billfold and the money it contained. But a week later, the mailman delivered a bulky envelope postmarked "Van Wert."

The billfold, money and papers were inside, intact.

A bit the worse for the tramping it got before being rescued, the wallet was back in the hands of its owner, thanks to an honest person, also anonymous, 150 miles away.

The only clue was a woman's handwriting on the envelope.

President Challenged By Taft---Coming Here

While Sen. Robert A. Taft was predicting at a new conference in Columbus that Ohio farmers will be back in the Republican fold in next year's elections, GOP leaders here today were putting the finishing touches on plans for a county committee dinner and a series of meetings for him when he comes to Washington C. H. Wednesday.

He is expected to arrive about 4 P. M. and the committee let it be known that arrangements have been made for him to spend the night here.

Ohio's senior senator is now carrying his "report to the people" campaign tour throughout the state.

Arrangements have been made for Sen. Taft to meet representatives of all of the county's farm organizations at the Farm Bureau office building on South Fayette Street. He is expected to arrive in the city about 4 P. M. and the committee plans to take him directly to the meeting place.

From his meeting with farm representatives, Sen. Taft is to go to the Washington Coffee Shop banquet room for a dinner with the county Republican committee.

Series Of Meetings

At 7:45 P. M., Sen. Taft is to hold the first of a series of seven 15-minute conferences with (1) physicians, dentists, lawyers, nurses and members of the board of health; (2) Lions, Rotarians, Chamber of Commerce officers and Young Businessmen's Committee; (3) city and county school authorities; and PTA representatives; (4) members of women's organizations; (5) labor union members and other workers; (6) city, county and township officials and (7) members of veterans organizations.

The groups meetings are to take the form of conferences and discussions of current national issues, the committee said. Sen. Taft, it was explained, had expressed a preference for questions and answers rather than a speech by him.

President Challenged

Sen. Taft carried his campaign into the state's capital city Monday with a challenge to President Truman.

In effect, the GOP congressional quarterback dared Mr. Truman to come into the Buckeye state and speak against the senator's reelection in 1950. Taft already has been marked as No. 1 political target of organized labor because of his co-authorship of the Taft-Hartley act.

"He's welcome to come into Ohio and try to explain away the failures of the Democrats," Taft said. The Cincinnati indicated he would like to have a chance for the kind of short range debate over the issues that any presidential appearance in Ohio would provide.

Farmer Swing-Back

The campaigning senior Ohio senator told his Columbus news conference Monday that Ohio businessmen will show up to vote in the 1950 balloting.

"It is too early yet to tell definitely whether the farmers will swing back," observed Taft, "but I don't see why they shouldn't when the issues are explained."

Taft was "very pleased" with his first week's effort, he told reporters.

fight by organized labor" to defeat his re-election bid next year, Taft said he has "run into a general opinion that the Taft-Hartley Law has not hurt labor."

"The unions have gained over a million new members under the Taft-Hartley Law and the workers are receiving higher wages and better working conditions than ever before," he declared.

The senator said he had found little interest in the Atlantic Pact and the military alliance supporting it.

European Recovery

With respect to the European Recovery Program, he said the general attitude of the voters is "how long are we going to finance the world?"

He said most voters apparently believe it is all right to furnish financial aid to Europe to fight Communism.

Taft said he had found no sentiment for any specific farm program but that he was certain the farmers did not want all their activities under federal control.

Mr. Truman, in Labor Day speeches at Des Moines and Pittsburgh expressed satisfaction with the present, 81st Congress. The president based much of his own re-election campaign last year with an attack on what he called the "do nothing" 80th—Republican controlled—Congress. Most politicians in Washington feel that Mr. Truman will stump the critical states next summer appealing for an increase in the Democratic majority in Congress.

Taft, in a speech at Warren Saturday, took vigorous issue with the president over which Congress—the 80th or 81st—was a forward looking group.

"What Mr. Truman did not mention in those talks (at Des Moines and Pittsburgh) was that the 81st Congress has put an O. K. (Please turn to Page Two)

Abductor Is Shown No Mercy By Kidnaped Girl's Parents

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 12—(AP)—Mrs. Ann Vecchio Hutt disclosed today that her appeal for sympathy toward her husband from the parents of little Janie Franz of Trenton, N. J., met with failure.

The wife of Gerald A. Hutt, 35, told interviewers that John Franz, father of the child, shouted over the telephone that he would do "everything to see that my husband got the electric chair."

Mrs. Hutt, whose husband is being held in Trenton in connection with the kidnapping of five-year-old Janie last Friday, said she spoke first with the girl's mother.

"I begged her to help my husband in any way she could," sobbed Mrs. Hutt, "and she asked me 'what do you want me to do, drop the charges?'"

"It was then that Mr. Franz came on the telephone." Her face pale and her eyes swollen, Mrs. Hutt, 33, said, "I'd like to get a lawyer for my husband, but I have no way of paying his fees."

But, as she spoke of appealing to her husband's American Legion post and the Veterans Administration office here, a Bridgeport furniture manufacturer offered to provide legal assistance.

Joseph Farante, who once worked with Hutt in an upholstery shop, said from his hospital bed, where he is recuperating from an automobile accident:

"I'll try to get my lawyer to defend Hutt, but if he finds himself unavailable, I'll seek a lawyer in New Jersey. I don't like to see any veteran in trouble. They went through enough."

Hutt served in the South Pacific in the last war.

Arizona Ranch Girl Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 12—(AP)—An Arizona ranch girl headed for the big city today to start her career as Miss America, 1949.

Dark-haired, brown-eyed Jacqueline Mercer of the X-Bar-X Ranch, Litchfield Park, Ariz., who won the title Saturday night, starts on a round of personal appearances that will take her back across the continent.

The 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Mercer came here from her ranch home after winning the title Miss Arizona.

First Snow Falls Over Northwest

CHICAGO, Sept. 12—(AP)—Snow moved into the upper plains states today, bringing with it the coolest weather of the burning fall season.

U. S. forecasters reported, however, that the ground still was too warm for the snow to stick. Six inches fell at Helena, Mont., melted to three inches by midnight and was still going down despite new falls.

Substantial rains preceded the cold air. Lamonia, Ia., reported four and one-quarter inches with more coming down. While the fall was west of the Mississippi, the weather bureau said the rain would move eastward today. The cold was expected to arrive over Chicago tomorrow.

Two Suspects Nabbed For Passing Bad Bills

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 12—(AP)—Robert E. Dunvito, 24, and Arthur Jorgenson, 48, both of Cleveland, were arrested here Saturday night for questioning in connection with the passing of four bogus $20 bills at taverns south of here. Police Lt. Harry Carpenter said the men admitted they passed the counterfeit bills, but said no charges had been filed.

The couple applied for the marriage license Thursday. Under Connecticut law they would have been forced to wait five days before the ceremony could be performed. However, probate judges are permitted to give waivers under the marriage law.

American Sparkplug Heiress Weds Exiled Russian Prince

GREENWICH, Conn., Sept. 12—(AP)—Spark plug heiress Marcia Stranahan Idris and Prince Youka Troubetsky were married here yesterday in a surprise ceremony which the bridegroom described as "simply beautiful."

The ceremony was performed in the garden of Judge Charles B. Boles' country home. In addition to the principals only the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and the groom's best man, Patrick O'Leary, an executive of a New York carpet company, were present.

Golfer Frank Stranahan, the bride's brother, was prevented from attending by a golfing engagement in Kansas City.

Troubetsky, who is a brother of Prince Igor Troubetsky, husband of Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, said they had announced the wedding for later in the week. He added: "We wanted to keep it private so we moved it ahead a bit and came up here today."

The new princess gave her age as 33. It was her third marriage. Troubetsky said he was 43. It was his first marriage. Both are residents of New York City.

Troubetsky, who comes from an old family of Russian nobility exiled by the revolution, was born in Los Angeles. He has appeared in French movies and played a part in the radio serial "Portia Faces Life" for two months about two and a half years ago.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—(AP)—Sergeant Bill Leitzel always wanted to be a writer.

In nine months he'll retire after 25 years as a Detroit cop. So here today he'll have his first try at what he always to do.

This piece belongs to him. I don't know him. He wrote me a letter about a story I wrote a couple of weeks ago on people growing old.

In it I mentioned all the old cops I knew when I worked a police beat and how they sat around at night, happy and chewing the fat.

And in it I remembered how it was when they retired: "little party, a few awkward words, and they were gone. And pretty soon they were dead."

Sergeant Bill Leitzel wrote me: "Some nine months hence I'll have finished my quarter-century and will, too, bow out, clumsily. Once in a while find myself making up the little speech I'll make. Then I think:

"What the Hell. It'll be forgotten before supper anyway."

"But when I look at those young kids, coming in to replace us. It starts a lot of thinking."

He remembered how green he felt when he first became a cop. And he wondered how the new rookies coming up every year now can learn to protect a city like Detroit. But he went on:

"Then as I let my memory cruise future-ward through the years, I can remember how my co-rosks took over more and more responsibilities until at a recent revival party we found there were 16 of 46 — left out of 108 — who had been made sergeants or better. "Beer, pretzels, and sandwiches were everywhere. Everyone was busy remembering. No one thought to try to total our dead, though it's in the files for those who care enough to check.

"It was hard to recall some of the faces we hadn't seen in years. Jumping, running, giggling cadets now were, gray, heavier, matured. "But they proved to me that the years take care of things and I need never fear that the department of which I'm so proud will ever grow to be anything but better and better.

"When, in my turn, I will boil to the brim and drop over into the waste, I regret that I'll not be able to cram my compiled experiences into the head of some stumbling rookie.

"Some of the things that were so hard to learn — such as courtesy to my fellow-man, that a man could be on the other side of every argument entirely, not even go to my church, and still not be crazy — so many things I'd like to pass on to the stumbling kid. But the years will do it. So be it.

"I wished many times to have been a writer. I have a number of newspaper friends. I've got many a clipping in my scrap book. If this scribble should move you to a stanza or a half-one-would you send me a page?"

Sergeant, it seems to me that the only way to tell your story is to let you tell it yourself. You did it better than I could.

And if editors think enough about it to put in their papers, then you'll have fulfilled a little of your ambition.

Big Maya Event Was in 644 AD

Date Is on Tablet Found in Castle

By ROBERT F. ALLEN
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12—(AP)—What big thing happened in southern Mexico in the year 644 A. D?

This is the mystic date beautifully inscribed on a great Mayan stone tablet recently discovered at Palenque, Chiapas state.

Anthropologists have worked out the date from previous knowledge of the accurate Mayan calendar system. But they have no clue as yet as to why it was carved into the stone in such great detail.

The huge stone tablet, uncovered in May by excavators of the National Anthropological and Historical Institute, is 10 feet high seven feet wide. It is made up of three stone slabs and occupies the central wall of an outer gallery of the Mayan "palace" at Palenque.

The discovery was an unexpected one. The stone slab thrust that brought to light the Mixte treasures at Monte Alban or the impressive jade-encrusted red tiger found in an inner structure of the Mayan "castillo" at Chichen Itza.

Excavators were working along the Palenque Palace outer walls, tumbled by some remote earthquake or collapse of foundations, in an effort to trace the original plan of the building. The tablet was completely uncovered with a few hours shoveling.

The central slab depicts three throned figures. The central figure is receiving gifts from the other two, one of which is a woman. The figures are carved with the simplicity and sureness of line typical of the Mayan artist and sought by many a modern. Every detail is necessary, nothing superfluous.

The remainder of the tablet is inscribed with 18 columns of hieroglyphics—286 in all. These spell out the mysterious date, 644 A. D.

The unusual feature of the inscriptions is that they are composed of human and animal figures rather than by the bars and dots the Mayans usually used to work out their dates. Each figure has some characteristic that relates it to the number it represents.

Examples of such figures used for numbers are very rare. The only others known are those found at Copan, Quirigua and Yaxchilan.

The systematic excavations at Palenque began more than a year ago and are expected to continue for a total of at least five years.

Nelson Rockefeller, former director of the U. S. office of international affairs, has been donating $10,000 a year for the project. The Mexican National Institute of Anthropology and History has advanced $4,000, plus wages of workmen and salaries of expert archeologists and their staff of helpers.

Frank Lanum Back on Sulky

Frank Lanum, who suffered a broken wrist in a spill in the first race at the Fair here six weeks ago, celebrated his return to the sulky with a two-heat win at the Van Wert Fair last week.

The veteran Washington C. H. owner-trainer-driver of harness horses made his comeback behind the 8-year-old Snappy Kate in the 2:14 trot.

For the consistent campaigner, it was her third race win in five starts this season. Always a favorite among the followers of the sport here, Snappy Kate went both miles in her latest victory "in around 2:12"—Lanum said he "didn't pay any attention to the time."

Snappy Kate won as she pleased—and could have gone faster, Lanum said. In the first heat she got off to a bad start and had to come from behind, but in the second she cut out her own race.

Ernie Smith, another Washington C. H. horseman, and Clayton Cox have been driving the mare during Lanum's layup.

Lanum still carries his arm in a semi-cast, but he said the injury does not bother him now.

The mental anguish over being knocked out of driving Snappy Kate, owned by Frank Junk, and Try Hussey, a colt he had trained for Oather Junk here after he acquired him from the late John Groff, was worse than the physical pain of the broken wrist, Lanum said.

Try Hussey has been doing all right, however, under the handling of the youthful Jimmy Shultz. He won his race easily and was 3-3-4 his last time out.

Egg Price Support To Be Continued

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—(AP)—The agriculture department announced today it will continue to support producer egg prices in the mid-west during October at 35 cents a dozen.

This is the same support price that has prevailed since the first of the year.

The department said the support program is being continued in the mid-west because of lack of demand for large supplies of low quality eggs. This factor, it said, tends to force the average farm price of all eggs below the support level required by law.

Sheep Decrease Despite Profit

Grain Farming Is Less Trouble

A strange economic situation threatens to curtail sheep production in the United States. Despite increasing profits production continues to decline as a recent nationwide study shows.

During the past six years the number of sheep in flocks has diminished 40 percent for the country as a whole and as much as 60 percent in some areas.

Discussing this problem and its effect on our national economy, an article in the Country Gentleman offers this explanation for the decline:

"Labor has been scarce and high. Predatory animals have been a problem. But the main cause has been the competition of other more extensive enterprises for the producer's attention."

Wheat growing and the production of grain sorghums, for instance, offer nearly as much profit for less work. Where sheep raising is a 12 months-a-year job wheat and sorghum can be handled in a few months. But with the bloom going off the cash-crop boom of high yields and high prices, and wheat and grain sorghum become less profitable, the spring-lamb industry may attract renewed interest to the profit of many a farmer, the magazine notes.

WHAT OF FUTURE FARMING . . . IN FAYETTE COUNTY --- IN AMERICA?

Today we hear many opinions on future trends of farming. Have prices reached their peak? Will government support be lessened? How will increased mechanization affect our farmers? How long will farm export demand continue? Will the resident farmer who lives on the land continue prosperous? We cannot predict the future, but we can and DO study the facts which may affect it, because so many Fayette County farmers are valued and important depositors and borrowers at The First National Bank . . . and their interests are OUR interests, too.

We have vast confidence in our Fayette County farmers, and those of all America, to meet every test as they have in the past. We will go hand-in-hand with them to help modernize and improve farm operation and income, through helpful banking and liberal loan policies. Experts Remain Optimistic About Business

Business people around Washington C. H. and in other spots in the county do not seem to be bothered about earlier predictions as to any downward trend in commercial activities.

Fayette County has shown no alarming movement in this direction, although allowances must be made for the fact that good solid agricultural counties like this and others of its kind, do not show the quick up and down reactions like many larger places, especially in the highly industrial sections.

Some of the best posted economic advisors assert that the six months slide in business generally, recently felt in many spots, has ended. They declare that a vigorous upward movement is underway.

That is good news to everybody but the real question becomes, is business going to climb back to the place it occupied from the middle of 1946 until the end of 1948? Or are we seeing only a brief rally with a later business activity sag?

Those who are watching economic trends say that the upturn has gained so much momentum that it is hard to see how it can fail to carry through the rest of this year.

It is being pointed out, however, that this coming year-end will be a crucial period. At that time, according to the forecasts, exports will drop, automobile sales—which have been a very important factor in keeping business and employment in many fields at high levels—will probably slacken to some degree, and spending by industry on new plants will be done. The hope is that the low in spending in these directions will be made up by an increase in others.

At any rate, a number of signs are cited which indicate that business is now pulling out of the spring slump. Steel production has again risen. Electric power output, always one of the best business barometers, has also gained. So have rail shipments of manufactured articles. Textiles, which were deep in the doldrums a while back, show new life. And things seem to be looking up in the appliance industries.

Consumer income, during the first half of this year, was well ahead of last. And so was consumer spending. In that first half, retail sales were two percent under the same period last year—but this was because of price drops. Far from being frightened into retrenchment, consumers actually spent a larger proportion of their incomes than in the last half of 1948.

Personal savings are at record or near-record levels. This means that the public at large has the means to buy pretty much what it wants. It is probably true that, once prices started downward, many people deferred purchasing in the hope of really substantial drops. If the experts are correct, these hopes will probably not be fulfilled. Only very small price declines, as a general rule, are expected for the next six months or so. New wage demands, if successful, and continued record-breaking government spending, might reverse the trend and cause price increases. The experts have been wrong in the past, but it is worth recording that most of them are optimistic now. Bad strikes could cause a change.

Example

Is Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, as military aide to the president, a bad influence on government? Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin thinks so. He said retention of Vaughan in the post, after his admission of some unsavory dealings in political favors, is like a presidential note to other government officials and employees telling them that Vaughan's activities have been perfectly proper and they may feel free to imitate him.

What Senator McCarthy says is true. Far from publicly rebuking Vaughan, the president has defended him. Certainly he is not the best example for civic-minded government employees.

Here's A Table for Atomic Age

NEW YORK—(P)—Once upon a time there was a great scientist named Dr. Alfonso Cortez.

No mind like his had ever entered this world before. The day he was born he asked the nurse if he could borrow the hospital's microscope. He wouldn't take his afternoon nap unless his mother sang him a lullaby from an algebra book.

By the time he was five he could recite the Encyclopedia Britannica from memory, forward or backward, including the index. He graduated from college at 7—before he could play hopscotch well.

At 10 he competed in a radio giveaway quiz contest. They couldn't think up a question he couldn't answer. The network finally paid him $5,000,000 to quit — it was the only way to keep from going bankrupt. With that nest egg the young scientist bought himself his first pair of long pants and dedicated the rest of his life to science.

In time every branch of human knowledge was illuminated by his brilliance. His inventions enabled men to live forty years longer, drink all night without getting a hangover, get by on half-an-hour's sleep, and earn all they wanted by working one hour a day.

The fame of Dr. Cortez was world-wide. His name was a household word — in households where people could read. But in his old age the scientist was unhappy.

"There is still evil in the world," he said. "I must solve the problem of right and wrong."

So he went into his laboratory and stayed there for five years. Then he emerged. He summoned the world's leading statesmen, bankers, clergymen, industrial leaders, generals, admirals and educators to his laboratory. When they were all assembled, he walked into the room carrying a large box.

"Gentlemen," he said, "in this box I have 3,604,385 mosquitoes. I have bred, and cross-bred them for five years to breed out their vicious instincts. I have read them the Bible, the Quran, the Talmud and passages from the philosophers. They have been taught not to sting anyone who is wholly good. They are the only trained moral mosquitoes ever reared.

"See" And with that he opened the box, and out swarmed the mosquitoes.

"Don't be alarmed," smiled Dr. Cortez. "They know right from wrong."

The mosquitoes began settling on his uneasy guests. For a moment there was a sudden silence, a vast quivering, and then—

"Ouch!" "Ouch!" "Ouch!"

The famous people, slapping at their faces, ran en masse from the laboratory, all except a stubborn general. He walked out, brushing the mosquitoes from his cheek — and his medals.

Dr. Cortez looked sadly around his deserted laboratory.

"There must be some wholly good person in the world," he said. "All my mosquitoes can't be wrong."

Just then he felt something on his neck.

"Ouch!" Cried the scientist. Moral: never trust an educated insect.

Life Built on Sound Foundation

It is not often enough that I have time to read current fiction. The stories seem so formalized, so written to a pattern. So when I happened, on a train, to pick up a current "Columbian" and saw a story entitled "The Cardinal," I read it on the assumption that this perhaps was a novelized biography of Cardinal Spellman.

However, I soon lost interest in that speculation, because the author, Henry Morton Robinson, was describing an Irish family in the period of my boyhood, which reminded me of Irish and Italian and Jewish families that I had known in the days when men and women were willing to labor hard that their children might have benefits in life altogether unknown to their parents. It is like building a strong foundation first—so that the house will stand no matter what comes.

Dennis Fermoy is the builder of this strong structure, and his partner is Celia, his wife. Dennis was the motorman on a trolley that ran between Boston and Medford, along the Mystic River, in Massachusetts. Celia cooked and baked and cleaned and reared a large family. Dennis earned about $27 a week. But there was plenty of food and a good home and a little over. And the children were able to get an education, if that was what they wanted.

Stephen Cross fist in his class at the Holy Cross for four years and won a scholarship in the American College at Rome. He becomes a priest. He is the hero of the story, for in time he becomes the cardinal.

Bernie is a song-plugger. He wears spinch-back suits and, in those days, chamisio-top shoes pomaded his hair. He goes about cabarets, singing current tunes in the hope that some day he might make big time. Florrie has undoubtedly been to a business college for she is a bookkeeper and is already earning as much as her father and is helping to support the family. Soon, I am sure, she will earn more than her father ever earned, for she is one of those efficient, tireless women who at the beginning of this century took over the work of men.

Monica is still at school in this particular picture, and she is in love; George is studying law and is hard at it, expecting to build a mighty career. Ellen has become a nun. Rita is a teacher, waiting to marry a young doctor who is an interne. They are waiting because they have no money. But they can wait because they are sure of each other.

Diet and Health Cause of Pain In Face Obscure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A GOOD many people suffer from severe attacks of pain in and around the face, the cause of which is obscure. When examination of the sinuses and other structures usually implicated in such a condition fails to reveal the source of the trouble, it is a good idea to examine the teeth, particularly if there is any sign that pyorrhea is present.

Even though the teeth themselves do not ache, the wasting away of their supporting tissues, which is so often found in pyorrhea, may allow them to get out of line. They are then subjected to abnormal strains, which may result in the production of pain almost anywhere in the facial area. One case has been observed in which a high spot of only about 1/1000 of an inch in one of the molars or grinding teeth produced a severe and long-standing pain in the right ear.

As if Chewing

The procedure suggested in cases of this type consists of having the person bite on a piece of red carbon paper which is coated on both sides. The patient bites as if he were chewing meat. Then any abnormal high spots on the teeth will show a red color, and these high spots are ground down by the dentist.

In grinding down the teeth, the two sides of the mouth are balanced so that they bite together. Care is also taken that the cutting teeth, that is those in front, do not become weight bearing, so that they are subjected to abnormal strain.

If the back teeth are worn or ground down too much, there will be some disturbance of the jaw joint, and this in turn will put weight on the front teeth. If, during eating or chewing, there is no side-to-side motion, enough strain will be put on the teeth to cause them to become sensitive. This tenderness will occur even though there is no tooth decay. It is important that the early signs of pyorrhea be discovered and any conditions present in the mouth which might cause the condition to progress be promptly cleared up. These early signs may be spongy and bleeding gums. There may be some receding of the gums or pussy discharge, or deposits of tartar at the gum margins.

Poor Bite

Such things as missing teeth and poor bite will, of course, lead to the development of symptoms. If these conditions are allowed to continue uncorrected, they may make a great deal of dental work necessary. Furthermore, they may cause pain in the face, sensitive teeth, earache, or pain in the jaw joint, and permit development of various infections. There can be no doubt that in many cases of facial pain there is a definite relationship to the teeth. With simple procedures, these conditions often can be properly corrected.

School Shortage Is Investigated

WARREN, Sept. 12—(P)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson is coming to Warren for a conference on an $18,166 shortage in school funds here.

This was announced today by City Solicitor Mark J. Williams. He said Ferguson told him he will arrive Monday for a talk on how the money might be recovered.

In June, state examiners charged $13,251 of the shortage against the school board and its clerk and $3,871 against Raymond Glass, principal of East Junior High School. The balance was charged to other board employees.

The board blamed an "inadequate bookkeeping system" and burglaries of Harding High School for its shortage. It also cleared Glass of any responsibility.

Ohio Deer Hunting Undetermined

COLUMBUS, Sept. 12—(P)—Ohio's wildlife council has delayed for 30 days a decision whether or not to permit deer-hunting in Ohio this year.

Meeting yesterday, the council tabled a proposal to set dates for the season pending further study of field surveys.

A conservation department spokesman said the council was told the present decreased deer population will not support another mass slaughter by Ohio hunters and farmers.

Last year hunters officially reported killing 1,586 white-tailed Virginia deer. Since farmers operate without the $5 deer licenses, the estimated kill was 3,000.

In 1947, the estimated kill was 2,000 although the reported kill was only 1,000.

The department spokesman said: "The only reason for having an open season on deer is to keep the deer herd under control, so they will not damage Ohio crops and farms."

"Three does were killed last year to each buck—a most effective means of controlling Ohio deer."

Also contributing to control have been numerous highway accidents taking the lives of deer.

Traffic Safety Campaign Puts Youth on Honor

Sons and Daughters Sign Agreement to Use Family Car

With the traffic death toll for Fayette County this year already standing at six up to now, safe driving campaigns are being pressed from all sides.

While the safety movement is general, it is given greatest emphasis among the younger drivers. A course in driving has been established in the city schools. It not only has had a full enrollment and the cooperation of the automobile dealers and Auto Club, but has been getting results in increased safety, officials are convinced.

Carroll Halliday, the Ford dealer here, has been showing the way in the safety campaign here recently.

In conjunction with the Ford Motor Co., Halliday has entered his dealership in the nationwide safety contest now under way. Unique Campaign

He also had gone into another unique campaign to impress the importance of careful driving on the coming generation of drivers with an agreement between father and minor sons and daughters nearing the age when they can take over the wheel of the family car.

The agreement is a very official looking document printed in brown for the daughters and blue for the sons.

The wording and the form follows the same form as any other agreement. There are blank lines for names, dates and signatures to be filled in, before the agreement is filed away.

The articles of the agreement are applicable to safety of all drivers.

The agreement forms are available both at the Halliday Garage and the Automobile Club. Signed and filed away, the document stands as black and white evidence of the youthful pledges for safe driving in return for permission to take the wheel of the family car.

The father, under the agreement, has the last word—because the car is registered in his name. Here is the Pledge

Here are the pledges made in the agreement:

1. That, knowing insofar as the law is concerned, my acts in using the car are the acts of my father, I will try to drive it as carefully and cautiously as he does;

2. That, because I am fully aware of the risks involved in driving after drinking, I will not allow the car to be driven by anyone who has been drinking any form of intoxicating liquor while the car is in my charge;

3. That I fully realize the car is not a plaything but a machine which has power to kill and injure, and will not try to show off with it;

4. That I will not drive it at any time in excess of the speed limit specified on any city street or over 50 miles per hour on open highways;

5. That I will slow down and lock both ways at all intersections even though I may have the right-of-way;

6. That I will not race with other cars no matter how much of a temptation it might be to do so;

7. That I will not attempt to drive if I feel sleepy;

8. That I will obey all signs, street and highway markings, signal lights and other traffic regulations.

I realize that if I violate these conditions and an accident occurs through carelessness or negligence on my part, the policy covering the car may be cancelled and that my father might then find it difficult to get insurance on it or that the insurance company might require an endorsement to be affixed to the policy which would make the policy void if I were driving the car at the time of loss or accident.

I realize further that this agreement is not legally binding, but I hereby give my father my word of honor that I will do what I have promised above in consideration of his permission to drive the family car.

Chest Clinic On Sept. 20

Dr. Watteraur, Chest Specialist, In Charge

Forty people have registered for the chest clinic which will be held here on the afternoon of September 20, Miss Gretchen Darlington, chief nurse of the Health Department, announced.

Dr. Damon E. Watteraur, chest specialist and medical director of Mt. Logan Sanatorium, will be in charge of the clinic.

Those slated for examination at the clinic come from three sources.

Some are referred to the clinic by the mobile chest X-ray unit that examined people here this summer.

Others are advised to report to the clinic by their family physicians and the remainder are "contact" cases.

The last-named group includes people who were in contact at one time with tuberculosis victims. The health department have them report periodically for check-ups over a two-year period to insure their safety from the disease.

Dr. Watteraur will utilize the fluoroscope of the health department and will be assisted by the nurses of the county health board.

A written report of each person's case will be made up and a copy sent to the patient and the doctor.

In most cases, the treatment recommended for each patient can be handled by the family physician.

If it later becomes necessary for the patient to have more complete treatment, the up-to-date facilities of the Mt. Logan Sanatorium are available.

Fayette County has a quota of 11 patients at the sanatorium which is maintained jointly by six counties.

There are four patients from the county at the sanatorium at the present time.

Miss Darlington said that the Hospital Receipts Exceed Expenses

During the month of August the Greenfield Municipal Hospital received $1490.89 more than expenses.

This was shown by the monthly report made by Miss Mary L. Margerum, superintendent to the hospital commissioners.

Receipts totaled $5,771.90 and expenses were $4,281.01. Of the amount $1,112.42 was from a one-mill levy for hospital purposes.

The hospital had 109 admissions, including 40 obstetrical cases.

clinics are held every other month, unless the situation warrants more frequent trips by Dr. Watteraur.

Be A Friend To The Land

By Jonathan Forman, M. D. Vice President of Friends Of The Land

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the U. S. Agricultural Extension Service.

What is agriculture?

One of the interesting concepts of agriculture is that it is a single complex which transforms the energy of the sun into the food and clothing of mankind. At present this is the concept that has dominated all decrees in the USSR concerning agriculture. It states that the most successful agriculturalist is he who constructs the most efficient system and methods for converting the sun's energy into food and does it the most efficiently. The basic part of this philosophy is that the main limiting factor to agricultural productivity is the farmer himself. They say "there are not good and bad soils but only good and bad agriculture."

According to this philosophy which now is gospel in Russia, there are three essential "shops" in the agricultural factory. All are of equal importance and inseparable from each other—crop husbandry, livestock husbandry, and soil cultivation. The crop is the mechanism by which solar energy is converted into vegetation, only about a quarter of which, however, is suitable for human food. The function of the livestock is to convert the remaining three-quarters into useful products. Again, however, only about a quarter of the energy taken in by the animals is converted into meat, milk, hides, etc. Most of remainder should be returned to the soil as manure which is useless until it is mineralized.

The purpose of soil cultivation, according to the official Russian concept, is to bring about the most complete and efficient decomposition of organic matter and so complete the cycle with the minimum of loss and the maximum of useful production. The farmer, these Russian insist, who pays undue attention to any one of these three factors to the neglect of the others loses in efficiency and his land loses in productivity.

So in a socialized state the farm becomes a factory and the farmer a servant of the state.

Senators, Moose Win; Jeffs, G. Hope Fall

There was the nip of Fall weather in the air Sunday as the four Fayette County baseball clubs took to the diamond and split their efforts, winning two and dropping two.

In the South Central League, the Washington C. H. Senators, playing at their Ashville home base, whipped ex-teammate Graves and Grove City, 13-0.

The Jeffersonville Cubs jolted league-leading Lancaster with three runs in the fifth to tie up the game, but lost out in the later innings, 5 to 3.

In the Southwestern League circuit, the Washington C. H. Moose cracked open a seesaw game with a six-run spurge in the seventh to smash Wilmington, 9-4.

The other SWO tilt saw Good Hope get away to a 5-0 lead over Bowersville and then blow the game, 7-5.

Senators Clinch Third
The WCH Senators clinched third place in the SCO as their ace, Schmitter, turned in a two-hitter to shut out Grove City.

Schmitter, who ruined Lancaster's unbeaten record by beating them a few weeks ago, struck out ten and walked but two Dodgers.

The Senators scored twice in the third, seven times in the sixth, once in the seventh and three more in the eighth to wrap up the game for the deep freeze. With bigtime scouts on the sidelines, young Kenny Robinson drove in three runs with two hits and handled 13 chances afield without an error.

The Jeffs trailed Lancaster, 3-0, going into the fifth and tied up the game before the pacemakers

One Over Par Wins Best Ball Tourney

The team made up of Jack Hagerty, Joe Waddle, Ed Cullen and Duke Bierley collected most of the prizes and took top honors in the four-man-best-ball tourney for second flight golfers at the Country Club here Sunday.

Only golfers with handicaps of 13 or higher were eligible. That one restriction barred the club's first flight contingent and gave those who play an "average" game a chance.

The winning team turned in cards on which the best-ball scores added up to only 73—and that is only one of par 72 for 18 holes.

Second place went to the team made up of Darrell Thornton, Harold Hyer, Bob Miller and Jim Cooper with a best-ball score of 75.

The highest score among the nine teams entered was 84. Only two teams emerged in a deadlock for seventh position.

Much of the credit for the winning team's victory today was handed to Hagerty. He shot a 79 for the best individual score of the tourney. It was his best card in six years of play.

O. D. Farquhar won the blind bogey prize and Bill Graham and Heber Minton had cards with the best "poker hands," an added stunt to spice the tourney.

The teams finishing first, second and third also received prizes. The tourney, the first of its kind for the second flight golfers, was considered "very successful."

The committee in charge, Ben Wright, Ervin Van Winkle and Lowell Miller today were receiving the compliments of the players as they talked over plans for another with Tony Capuana, the club pro.

Here are the scores:
Score 73—Jack Hagerty, Joe Waddle, Ed Cullen and Duke Bierley.
Score 75—Darrell Thornton, Harold Hyer, Bob Miller and James Cooper.
Score 76—Glen Roseboom, Marshall Morr, Charles Reinke and Jont Bailey.
Score 78—James Grinstead, "Rip" Van Winkle, Carl Kistner, Jr. and Don King.
Score 80—Don Denton, Lowell Miller, Bud Schlue and Heber Minton.
Score 81—Howard Mace, Bill Graham, Ben Hagerty and Bob Heffrich.
Score 82—Jim Shaw, "Babe" Madgux, P. J. McCorkell and O. D. Farquhar.
Score 83—Austin Wise, Ben Wright, Eugene McClain and Fred Ensign.
Score 84—Dick Korn, Kenneth Fudge, John O'Connor and "Dutch" Rife.

Drakes Beaten By 1 to 0 At Greenfield

The Drakes met defeat in a pitching duel in the Greenfield tourney, losing by 1 to 0 to Carano Construction of Springfield.

Their second loss in 27 games this year, the Drakes were held to three hits by Welty, Carano's ace, while Joe Drake gave up but four safeties.

The Drakes threatened in the fourth with a man on second and third with none out, but Welty fanned the next three batters.

The Drakes repeated in the sixth—men on second and third and none out, but they failed to score.

In the bottom of the sixth, Roberts singled to center and a Drake error put men on first and second. Welty then stepped into the box and won his own game by singling in the one and only marker.

Joe Drake got off to a shaky start by walking three men, but his mates came through by retiring the side. Joe struck out two and walked four.

Rea got two for three to lead the losers and Joe Drake hit the other safety, to account for the three hits.

The Drakes are now in the losers bracket and so will not play again until Tuesday night, September 20. Their opponent is not yet known.

Reds Lose 2 to Cards; Bosox Jolted by A's

By JACK HAND (By the Associated Press)

There is a very strong chance the Cincinnati Reds will be able to say they were absolutely fair about the tight National League pennant race.

The seventh place Redlegs wound up their season's activity with St. Louis here yesterday by losing both games of a double-header and their final contribution was a fat package of 17 victories toward the Cardinal pennant cause. The Reds licked St. Louis only five times and they played one tie.

Brooklyn trailing the Cards by a game and a half in the battle for the flag, move into Crosley Field tomorrow for the first of a two-game series. And if the Dodgers win both of those encounters, the Cincinnati contribution toward the Brooklyn pennant fight will be another fat package of 17 games. In 20 games to date the Dodgers have whipped the Rhinelanders 15 times and lost on five occasions.

The scores Sunday were 7 to 5 and 7 to 4.

Stan Musial, who wrecked the Reds Saturday with a ninth inning home run, had his sights set on the fences again yesterday and he drove out three homers, one in the first game and two in the windup.

Bosox Handed Jolt
Doff your lids to Connie Mack. The old boy hit it right on the nose when he said his Philadelphia A's could decide the American League race.

"They'll have to beat the A's first," he said last week. He wasn't kidding. Yesterday he proved it for the benefit of the Boston Red Sox, who suffered two shocking setbacks at Shibe Park.

The Sox, only a half game behind New York Saturday afternoon after the Yanks lost the first game of a doubleheader to Washington, now are three full games back. Furthermore, they have only 15 to play.

Boston belted the A's 14 out of 20 this season until they blew yesterday's pair, 6-4 and 4-0. It may have cost them the pennant. However, Mr. Mack's gang also has three more dates with the Yankees in the last week of the season.

New York took care of Washington, 20-5, setting a new major league record in the opener by drawing 11 bases on balls from the Senators' "pitchers" during a 12-run rally in the third inning. The second game was called because of darkness after 5 1/2 innings with the cellarites missing a chance to tie by some inept base running.

Tigers Still On Spree
Detroit continued its surge, as Virgil Trucks shut out Chicago, 10-0 for the Tigers' 10th straight win. They have won 18 of their last 20 and hold their place, a half game ahead of the defending world champion Cleveland Indians. The Indians lost at St. Louis, 5-4. The Tigers are 5 1/2 games behind the Yanks with only 14 to go. They could do it but it would require a miracle finish.

The Dodgers pumped across six runs in the seventh inning, including a grand slam homer by Carl Furillo, to whip the New York Giants, 10-5. Shortstop Pee Wee Reese was injured during the big inning when hit by a ball thrown by Larry Jansen. X-rays dispelled early fears of an elbow fracture but it is not definite when he will be able to play.

Ken Heintzelman and Russ Meyer pitched the Phillies to a pair of wins over the staggering Boston Braves, 3-1 and 6-3. As a result the Phils' hold on third place now is six games and the Braves, 1948 league champs, have been eliminated mathematically from the race.

Ralph Kiner, only bright spot in the Pittsburgh picture, hit his 45th and 46th homers in the Pirates' 7-3 decision over Chicago. Murry Dickson, aided by Kiner, pulled the Bucs out of a five-game losing streak. They've won only two of their last 15.

Browns Win; Crowd Small

CLEVELAND, Sept. 12—(AP)—The Cleveland Browns appeared back in championship form today, but poor attendance figures were causing concern in the club's business office.

The 21,621 fans who saw the All-America conference champions down the Baltimore Colts, 21 to 0 yesterday marked the Browns' smallest crowd here in their four years of play.

For the opening game, the attendance was nearly 40,000 below the lowest on record here. In the others, played on Friday nights, the club drew 60,135 in 1946 and 63,263 in 1947 and 60,193 last year.

Arthur B. McBride, the Browns' owner, pointed out that it was well enough to exceed our guarantee.

First in Fashion

A glance at the new Ford and you'll agree with New York's famous Fashion Academy : : it certainly is the "Fashion Car of the Year"! But its looks are only the cover of Ford's book of "firsts". Ford alone in its field offers you a 100 horsepower engine : : an 8 cylinder engine : : a V-type engine. Ford alone offers your choice of this V-8 or the new 95 "horse" Six.

You'll find Ford first in safety, too. Its heavy-gauge "Lifeguard" Body and 5 cross-member, box section frame make Ford 59% more rigid : : its big "Picture Windows" give you 19 square feet of vision area : : more than any other car in Ford's field.

First in "Feel"

Drive a Ford and you'll feel the difference right away. You'll like the "feel" of that "Mid Ship" Ride . . . the "feel" of those bump-erasing "Hydra-Coil" and "Para-Flex" Springs . . . the 35% easier acting "Magic Action" Brakes . . . the easy "Finger-Tip" Steering. Come in for a ride and you'll order your Ford now.

Take the wheel...try the new FORD "FEEL" at your Ford Dealer's

Fayette Group Will Visit At Bromfield Farm

Trip Is Open To Any Interested In Joining Caravan

A delegation of Fayette County people are to form a motor car caravan for a visit to Louis Bromfield's famous Malabar Farm near Mansfield on Thursday, October 13.

This trip is being sponsored by Fayette County members of Friends of the Land, but announcement is made that anybody in Fayette County, or nearby, who wants to join in this visit will be welcome to do so.

Special arrangements have been made with Bromfield to greet this party and take the group on a special inspection trip of his property which is said to be an outstanding example of what progressive farming, with proper conservation attention, can do for any farm. The date is not a regular visiting day at the farm, but Bromfield agreed to meet with any delegation from this county.

Many Fayette County people who have not met Bromfield, who is a nationally prominent author and lecturer as well as a farmer, probably will be happy to take advantage of this opportunity.

Ralph Penn, who took the initiative in arranging this trip, states that details have not been entirely completed as to plans for leaving here but that those going probably will use private cars. Those who wish to go and have no automobiles, may call Penn at his home, he states. Until more complete plans are made, he has agreed to act as an information committee.

Within a few days, it is reported that there will be a meeting of both men and women who are interested in the Friends of the Land organization to set up a temporary organization so as to be able to apply for a charter for the formation of a local chapter.

Former Resident Dies in New Jersey

Friends and relatives here have received word of the death of Robert Dunn, 52, a former resident of Fayette County, Friday in the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orange, N. J.

A former attorney in Columbus, he had been a legal representative for the Federal Trade Commission in New York City for the past 15 years.

He leaves his widow, June Moore Dunn; three sisters, Mary and Kathryn, and Mrs. Edward J. Holmes, all of Columbus; and three brothers, William R. of Kansas City and Dr. Joseph Mitchell Dunn and Paul, both of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, with Requiem High Mass scheduled for 9:30 A. M. at St. Patrick's Church in Columbus. Burial will follow in the St. Joseph cemetery. Friends may call at the Dunn home, 1495 Neil Avenue, Columbus all day Monday.

The deceased was born and raised in Fayette County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn. The family moved to Columbus in 1911.

Hawkins Murder Trial Underway

City Manager W. W. Hill went to Hillsboro, Monday, as assistant prosecutor in the first degree murder trial of Ohio against Hansford L. Hawkins, 57, who shot and killed Paul E. Young, 34, the night of June 9.

The prosecution is expected to prove that jealousy was the motive for the killing, and the defense will claim that Hawkins fired in self defense.

Carey Young Jr., 22, who is to be called as a prosecution witness, was present at the time of the slaying.

In the early accounts of the shooting, Hawkins claimed self-defense, saying that Young came at him with outstretched hands. Hawkins said he shouted at Young to stop. When the latter failed to do so, Hawkins said he shot because he was "scared and excited." At the time, Mrs. Heppard said she had dated or "gone" with the victim for 13 years and that he had been there earlier in the week of the slaying to see her. She claimed she and Hawkins had not lived as "man and wife."

Rifled Money Box Is Found in Woods

Robert Case, while walking through the woods on his farm on the Miami Trace Road, found a badly damaged money box, which he turned over to Sheriff Orland Hays.

Sheriff Hays identified the box as having come from the Harold Mark hybrid seed barn, which was burglarized several months ago.

The Case farm adjoins the Mark farm.

The box had been rifled of several checks and other valuables, including the money it contained.

House Burglarized Saturday Night

Burglars visited the Miss Bess Shoop home, 321 North North Street Saturday night while no one was at home. It was thoroughly ransacked.

Whether anything was stolen could not be ascertained until Miss Shoop returns.

Entrance was gained by removing a screen and breaking a window in the bathroom on the north-west corner of the house.

Drawers were rifled and other places searched, apparently after money.

Police were notified early Sunday and investigated the burglary.
